Dry Farming Congress

Lethbridge, 1912

Calgary, Spokes, Oct. 20. Lethbridge handed the international dry farming congress for 1912 at last night's session of the proceedings against most enthusiastic manifestation during the whole meeting. To Hon. Duncan Marshall, who so ably voiced the claims of the Canadian delegates, must be given a great deal of credit. To Hon. A. W. McArthur, of Saskatchewan, who threw in the support of that province, and to the Lethbridge board of trade, who made a special excursion, credit is also due. After the announcement of the board of governors to name Lethbridge for next year, Hon. Duncan Marshall arose and thanked very courteously the delegates from Arizona and Utah for withdrawing in their favor and assured them that Lethbridge, Alberta and Canada would put forth every effort to make the congress next year better than ever before.

At the conclusion of this part of the business, Dr. T. J. of Edmonton, rose, and in an address which marked the climax to the congress, delivered what was said to be one of the most telling addresses of the convention on the relations between Canada and the United States. The burden of his address was "The relations of Canada and the United States are, and must continue to be, based on mutual friendship and co-operation." He pointed out the things we have in common, language, education, literature, institutions and a common problem to solve to build up two great English-speaking communities in the best of friendship, and side by side, with millions of happy people co-operating with each other and with the great parent nation in hastening the day of peace on earth and good will towards men.

Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada, last night was selected as the 1912 meeting place for the International Dry Farming Congress. Salt Lake City withdrew when the Canadians pledged their support for that place in 1913.

Delegates Herman Liebenfeldt, of Hungary, invited the congress to Budapest in 1913. The foreign delegates, with the exception of the Canadians, concurred, and decided to attend the Lethbridge convention next year to capture the 1912 convention for Budapest, Austria-Hungary.

Resolutions were moved in favor of county and district farmers' aid bureaus through state agricultural colleges and government experts, located in every county; the pledging of the congress to the extension of the examination of the arid and semi-arid areas of all provinces, urging the establishment of $1,000,000 endowment fund during the national congress to be held in Lethbridge next year; and in early stages of the public domain and rate opportunities for the work and condemning irresponsible land speculators.

Comment Deliberations

The council met last Friday evening with all present except the Mayor whose place was filled by Councilor Holmes.

Several communications were read but few were of much importance. Mr. H. P. Olund, who has held the position of Electrician for the town since the plant was installed sent in his resignation to take effect by the 15th of November next, stating if a suitable or qualified man could be found to take his place. It was learned that Mr. McKenna, second engineer at the power house was a qualified electrician and would consider taking the position if necessary and the resignation of Mr. Olund was accepted on motion of Councilors Rouse and Jones.

Communication from the company from which the present whistle at the power house was bought, regarding the purchase of another one and the exchanging of the old one, stated that a one and one half inch single ball valve whistle suitable for the needs required would cost $12 but that the old whistle would be of no use to them in exchange. This sealed the fate of the poor old whistle and it will probably be consigned to the junk pile, where according to the minds of a great many of the rate payers it must have belonged in the first place. However, the secretary was instructed to write the A. R. Williams Co. of Winnipeg regarding the sale of same.

An invitation from secretary of the Municipal Convention which will be held in Metchosin on the 25th and 26th of this month was read and a committee appointed to attend if possible.

Mr. H. Stewart, of Lakeland, Ont. wrote the secretary regarding the taxes on certain lots in Tweed Park which he is selling to eastern investors for what is claimed to be very fancy prices. It was learned that the advertising these lots were getting was on the widest order and the sale just brought forth the severe criticism of the members of council. The mat-

FARMERS List With Us at OnceLocal Address Box 39 Claresholm, Alta.*The Ureathed White Plague

Owing, no doubt to the fact that the lecture by Dr. Geo. D. Porter was not advertised and that but very few of the citizens knew that a meeting of this character was to be held, the attendance at the Methodist Church on last Thursday evening was very poor. The lecturer, who is the secretary of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, is addressing public meetings throughout this province under the auspices of the Provincial Medical Association.

The meeting began at 8:30 with H. W. Broun in the chair. The speaker, among other things, brought out the following thoughts, couched in plain language easily understood and assimilated by the hearers.

The white plague caused panic and struck terror to every heart at its onset, but the white plague was not periodic nor was it confined to certain localities and its victims were more numerous. Yet the same fear was not caused through statistics 10,000 died in the U. S. from Consumption last year. In Canada the victims of Tuberculosis numbered 10,000 last year and of these 200 were in Alberta. The percentage of deaths was 10 per cent. of advanced cases, 10 per cent. of moderate cases, 10 per cent. of early cases recovered.

Tuberculosis is not hereditary, Dr. said, although the tendency to contract it is. It is an infectious disease like a germ. It infects horses and in this way people living in them are smitten. The germs are in the spit of expectoration in the later stages, hence tubercular sputum in public should be disinfected and the sputum should be collected in a vessel and destroyed.

Tuberculosis is children is usually in the glands and joints. This is not infectious but due to tubercular milk. Suspicious milk should be boiled or pasteurized. A simple mode of pasteurization is to bring the water in a vessel to the boiling point. God this water for 6 degrees by adding cold water, immerse the vessel containing the milk, bring the water more to the boiling point, remove the vessel containing the milk and cool quickly by plunging into cold water. This does not destroy or alter the relative constituents of the milk but effectually pasteurizes it. Five things are essential to health, viz. Sufficient Rest, Good Food, Cleanliness, Fresh Air, Sunshine. In the Sanatoria for the treatment of tubercular cases the patient is put to bed. As the disease is a wasting disease, rest is necessary till the fever has been checked. Good nourishing food, substantial and well cooked, is given the patient. When the fever is dispersed, gradually increasing exercise is given. The physician's advice in regulating habits, diet, rest and exercise is worth more than the medicine prescribed. The windows are kept wide open and the blinds up while the patient is well-wrapped and warm in the fresh air. No matter how or where a person works, at least one-third of his time is spent in his bed room and the air can always be fresh there without inconveniently opening windows. In summer the windows should be kept wide open, in winter open from a half-inch to an inch and in the most inclement weather the room should be aired in the sunny part of the day. Sunshine will kill the tubercular germ in one hour. It will live six months in the dark.

An attempt should be made to keep the health at normal pitch and as the measures used to keep one's health so, the measures that are made use of to cure Consumption, the adoption of these rules will be a preventive of the disease.

It is not necessary for a person to change their residence for another climate. What a person needs most is the care of friends and physicians. They can be treated as well at their homes as at a Sanatorium. Conditions are right. Sanatoria are for the benefit of the poor man or the person in moderate circumstances. If treated in his home the patient should sleep alone in an airy well-ventilated room, and have his own linen, dishes and utensils.

Ten years ago there was but one Sanatorium in Canada, with 100 beds. Three years ago there were ten with 500 beds. Now there are twenty with 1000 beds. Alberta is the only province that has not any provision of this kind for the tubercular poor. It is well known that the hospitals will not take in these cases and more than one patient has died in the jails because there was no place for the treatment of this disease.

The Provincial Medical Association have taken up this matter and the Provincial Government is prepared to cooperate with them. Ships have been taken at Calgary and at Edmonton to further this movement by forming local societies. The object is to get places where the poor and people in moderate circumstances can go to, and thus ensure the proper treatment and remove the danger of the infection spreading to others and at the same time enable the afflicted ones to rest on their feet again.

At the close of Dr. Porter's remarks it was moved by Dr. Stevens and seconded by Dr. Leary, that we organize a society in Claresholm so that we shall be able to keep in touch with the movement, get literature, and cooperate with the Provincial Society. The motion carried unanimously.

W. A. Connell was appointed president and Dr. Leggett secretary treasurer.

A Look Over the Field

We have not exercised ourselves so far with regard to the by-elections, four in number, which will be contested on October 31st, to fill vacancies in the Provincial Legislature. It is not through any indifference to ward these by-election contests. Our own constituency does not happen to be one of the four, and hence the matter does not come home to us so much. But there is an issue and there are reasons, and valid ones at that, why the election of supporters of the Sifton administration should be chosen. The constituencies of Medicine Hat, Medicine River, Pincher Creek and Calgary are the immediate scenes of conflict. The death of J. A. McArthur, late M.P.P. for Medicine Hat, has caused the opening of that constituency. The election of W. A. Buchanan, former M.P.P. for Medicine Hat, is a tactical move, and also that of Dr. Warrack for Pincher Creek, the Dominion Liberal, has caused the Provincial Legislature these two stalwarts and Calgary, by electing R. B. Bennett to the federal house, opening that riding to another rival.

In the last-named constituency, which has been preponderantly Conservative, we are of the opinion that the Dominion has not commensurately gained. We consider that R. B. Bennett's eloquent, well-grounded, occasionally fluid, debating value was greater in the provincial house than it will ever be at Ottawa. His record, his choice English, etc., etc., in the provincial house was an education apart from any real thoughtful value his perorations possessed. But at Ottawa, we predict a back-bencher's place for our silver-tongued orator. Personally we would rather we had R. B. at home. But in Calgary the Liberals have selected T. J. S. Skinner as their standard bearer and T. M. Tweedie is his opponent. We are judging at this distance that for end financial ability, experience and astuteness, and our government needs such. T. J. Skinner would be a most valuable acquisition. We are confident that if independent ones are ever to be given a place in our selection of candidates, it is in the choices for the provincial legislature. Calmly and dispassionately, we believe that if the business instinct which has placed Calgary so prominently before the world would be exercised in the selection of a candidate for the best house, Mr. Skinner would be the nominee, and we think there is not a shadow of doubt that a Liberal for Calgary would occupy a most important position in the provincial hall. His influence, with the strong Calgary endorsement, would be paramount and we almost venture to think that with Mr. Skinner for Calgary that party would be so well presented that its political complexion would undergo a radical change. In Medicine Hat constituency S. J. Sheppard asks for, and deserves the Liberal support. As regards the question of the policy of the premier and the record of his government, Mr. Sheppard's confidence is an undoubtedly most worthy of support. Hence we believe the electors should study the achievement of the Sifton administration, forget any past mistakes of the Rutherford dynasty, and by declaring for Sheppard, start the seed of approval on the work of the present premier and his associates.

In Pincher Creek the issue should not enter the voter's any constructive thought. A moderate politician, a thinking, successful farmer, who has proved himself as a man of business and a man of ideas, makes the decision easy. John Bennett has not an argument against the present administration nor has he the personal ability to demand recognition. A wise man in every respect, he is not an excuse for any party, but a man for the moment, and in time, this town is not likely to be the scene of a contest as that constituency. The result of the by-elections will be more important and more definite in the future than in the past, for the voters are now more responsible and more able to adjust themselves to the policy of the Union and the Liberal.

In the capital, a contest is not even supposed that the argument is over has entered the sensible thinking in the unbroken-minded electors' thought.

that Mr. Riley should be taken seriously. His claims are, to our judgment, absolutely a weakness to his candidature even as he utters them. Leader Michener would be handicapped were he seated in power with the Glenelg Conservative candidate as his (Calgary) representative for the Glenelg constituency. Conservatives were cautious or other horses were in the convention that chose Mr. Riley.

But to return to the Calgary contest. We are of the opinion that the elector in that constituency, and if Mr. Skinner were in opposition to the present successful business-like government, give our independent support to the present Liberal nominee, for to our mind, Calgary stands to gain in the personality of the man, considered entirely apart from the government of the province.

The policy of railway extension is a most pertinent, but dangerous question for Alberta. The exploiting of resources the burden laid on posterity may be justified at times, but when the condition of the province is as it is we can afford to consider equity, and to pick and choose before grasping a present bubble with a later bitter awakening and a patient waiting for a reality comparatively close at hand. Mr. Sifton's railway policy loses not a whit in that he wishes to look before he leaps, especially when he knows that with three great competing Canadian transcontinental lines and the various U. S. lines at the border waiting to be subsided the province of Alberta is in a position to dictate terms to the prospective roads rather than to submit to railway bays' knuckle-treatment.

Work on the new C. P. R. depot has been pushed along rapidly the last few weeks, and is commencing to look some like a building.

Needed an Honest Man

The treasury ought to be responsibly safe in the hands of that life-long Liberal, Hon. W. T. White, Premier Borden would have a difficult time explaining why the portfolio carrying the greatest distinction, honor and responsibility should have been placed in the hands of a man who supported Liberalism all his life until the reciprocity question, entered into the war, and then turned to the Conservative party. Hon. George Edwards, who was named would be most interesting to hear from his own lips.

LATER

As we go to press we received the news that the Giants won their game on Wednesday, by a score of 4-3. This still leaves the Athletics one game in the lead in order to win the series. New York will have to take both the next two games.

Other matters to be discussed include the placing of signs and guide posts along all travelled roads, the standardizing of legislation regarding the speed of automobiles and the "rule of the road", and the planning of a campaign in favor of better roads.

From the evidence adduced at the trial, and subsequently arranged by the respective counsel, I find that the name was properly impounded by the Defendant Craig, that the Defendant Curran bought the name in good faith and as entitled to rely on the title that the Ordinance gave him; that the Defendant Root positively complied with the requirements of the Ordinance in that behalf, subject to the qualifications submitted. This last named Defendant (Root) it was clear from what transpired at the trial was poorly qualified to act as pound keeper, not only because his powers of reading and writing were extremely limited but because of his inexperience in reading lands. Recognizing this he availed himself of the services of Mr. Hitchcock who was a better qualified person to assist him. Both of them tried to decipher the brand but succeeded somewhat imperfectly. Had they availed themselves of the Brand Book the result might have been that they would have been led to find the brand, but Root, it was sworn to had not consulted the Brand Book on the ground that by so doing he had got himself into trouble on a previous occasion. In view of the brand not being decipherable with certainty I think he should have exhausted every means in his power to ascertain what the brand were and that he should have consulted the Brand Book. The Plaintiff deposed that the brands as given in the advertisements in the Gazette were not supplied by the Defendant, would not if he had seen them, have put him on the enquiry as being misleading. I do not think that an ordinary person not being a cartographer would have been misled by the description.

The October Rod and Gun

On the eve of the opening of the game hunting season, Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Publisher, Woodstock, Ont., is to the fore with a plentiful supply of good game hunting stories, covering Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The opening story by Mr. Beauchamp Dale is a description of the gallant efforts of a little fawn to escape its enemy by the sportsman's traps, but the instincts were too much for its helpless struggle, and its capture and removal by the petting showered upon it. The whole narrative makes an irresistible appeal to the highest ideals of sportsmanship and makes a capital opening for a number which includes hunting of many varieties and under widely different conditions. Mr. Starratt's paper on Woodcock Shooting in Nova Scotia is another article which stands out prominently as one which cannot fail to stir the memories and the feelings of all bird hunters and make them live many of their experiences over again. Big game hunting, however, is given the pride of place in this number, and it is a foregone conclusion that in many a camp throughout this broad Dominion Rod and Gun will prove not only an acceptable but an indispensable companion. Many an important article of the outfit would be less missed than this important number. Those who have the arrangements for the hunting parties and camps so general throughout the Canadian woods will please take notice. A wet day in camp can be passed most pleasantly with a copy of the big game hunting number of Rod and Gun in Canada.

The Plaintiff Lost

A very interesting decision was handed down in the district court of Michael recently, in which Messrs. McNaught, of Grinnam, appeared as counsel for the Defendant, A. T. Root, of Boyleville, Mr. Craig, who impounded the animal, and Ed Curran, of Claresholm, claiming the illegal impounding and the illegal sale of his horse as a plea for damages against the defendants. Campbell & Fawcett, who represented McNaught, argued that Root, as poundmaster, had not given a proper description of the horse in advertising the impounded horse of the plaintiff for sale. Ed Curran, who purchased the horse, was a party to the defense. Mr. H. H. Gunge represented Mr. Root and J. R. Watt looked after the interest of Mr. Curran. We shall give the text of the decision in full, as we consider it will be of service to our readers.

McNaught vs. Root et al.
The Plaintiff's claim is against the Defendant Root as poundkeeper for

I mention this because this case arose from a case of habit very particular in describing marks on cattle and mules use of what I might call "trick" marks to identify these marks which would rather confuse than enlighten a person not accustomed to handling cattle. That such a mark having a real effect, as was best may have been a factor in the Plaintiff's non-recognition of the animal.

The Plaintiff appeared to have made some enquiries from the Defendant Root but did not get at first much assistance and there being no evidence adduced which compels me to give that Defendant costs, I give judgment for him without costs. Judgment is also given for the other two defendants but with costs in each instance.

The Value of Small Savings

A young man 15 years of age was determined to save three cents a week, and to pay the 15 cents thus saved every week until he was 60 to the Canadian Government for the purchase of an Annuity, the result of his thrift would be that from and after 60 he would receive $25.15 every three months so long as he lived. If he died before he was 60 all that he had paid in with, three per cent compound interest would be refunded to his heirs, and if he died just before his first instalment of Annuity fell due his heirs would inherit $77.10. A poster sent to the Superintendent of Canadian Government Annuities, Ottawa, giving you last birthday, will secure you in this scheme will be to what an Annuity will cost.

Anything for Good Roads

An important step towards the improvement of existing roads in western Canada will be taken on November 2 and 4, when meetings of all interested in this movement will be held in New Westminster, B.C.

The meetings are called by Mayor John A. Lee, and will be attended by a large number of the members of the Vancouver Automobile Club, the Vancouver Auto Club, the Victoria Auto Club, the Seattle Automobile Club and other automobile associations.

The Pacific Highway Association will be represented at the meetings by a strong delegation, including prominent San Francisco, Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, Bellingham and Spokane men. These men will come prepared to urge the extension of the Pacific Highway, which now stretches from Vancouver, B.C., to Tijuana, Mexico, a distance of 2200 miles. The scheme favored by the 'Highway' enthusiasts is the building of the Pacific Highway through British Columbia, via Hazelton, and on to the Yukon.

The extension of the Canadian Highway with the object of eventual making it a good road from the Atlantic to the Pacific will also command much of the attention of the meeting. Resolutions asking the Federal Government to assist in this scheme will be introduced during the convention.

Fall Treatment for Cutworms

The Dominion Entomologist, Dr. C. Gordon Hewitt, has been good enough to prepare a short article on the fall treatment for cutworms. Those farmers who have been unfortunate enough to suffer during the past summer from the ravages of these little pests, will, I am sure, appreciate what he has to say. The only suggestion that I would wish to add to those made by Dr. Hewitt is the importance of harrowing the land as fast as it is plowed this fall. The most satisfactory way of doing this is to attach a section of the harrow behind the plow in case a stilly or going is used. If a walking plow is used hook onto the harrow at noon and at night before leaving the field. Too much emphasis cannot be laid on this point because if the ground is left irregular and lumpy it dries out much more rapidly than is necessary. In addition to this, it is harvested while still a mass after being turned over by the mold board of the plow. It is not made ponderous, (which is more or less the case when land is harrowed when the surface is quite dry) but is left in a fine mellow condition with the particles of the soil, though small, in a granular rather than a powdery condition hence it is not inclined to blow away so readily with the wind. Dr. Hewitt's article is as follows:

As cutworms have done serious damage in many parts of Alberta, particularly through the southern portion of the province, during the past season it is important that preventive measures be now adopted, as far as possible, so as to prevent the outbreaks of these insects this year. The notes which develop from cutworms appear about two weeks after the injury occurs, that is, in most years during the first week of July. An interesting fact is that the eggs from which the cutworms come. Some kinds of cutworms eggs hatch in late summer, others do not hatch until early spring. These cutworms of egg-laid on weeds or other succulent vegetation which may be near by, or upon the remnants of the crops. In other instances, they destroy as much as possible of these cutworms, eggs or the young hibernating worms. It is necessary to plow deeply all fields where these insects have been troublesome this year. Such plowing not only destroys many of the eggs and the young cutworms, but also numbers of other insects which hibernates beneath fallen plants, weeds, etc. and also kills thousands of eggs or other insects about to be hatched. Plowing should always be practised when the cutworms are still in the ground. The cutworms, when they have nearly hatched, are very numerous in the soil, and the cutworms exposed to severe weather which is fatal to them. Not only will this plowing destroy large numbers of these insects but the land of course will be put into much better condition for early spring sowing.

On the first appearance of cutworms in the spring a free use of poisoned grain will avert much damage. Half a pound of Paris green is sufficient to poison fifty pounds of grain. The best way to use it is to mix it with sweetened water and the Paris green then dusted in gently and the grain stirred so that practically every particle will be poisoned. For field use this mixture can be spread by means of a wheel spreader and should be put on in early evening as under normal conditions cutworms only feed at night. In case the grain may be spread by hand, near the plants to be protected.

CROWN LUMBER Co. Limited.

Be Careful in building that Home.

POOR LUMBER gives a house a cheap shabby look which makes it difficult to rent. If it is to live in, you want to be proud to show it to your friends, and the fuel bills are large where low grade lumber is used.

We make a specialty of high grade and "classy" material that you will want to use. We have built up the largest retail business in Western Canada by being very fussy as to grades and selling better stuff than is sold elsewhere at prices as low as those asked for the inferior kinds. If your contractor uses CROWN LUMBER it means that he is a man who wants the best of everything and it is the best recommendation he could have!

The Juvenile Bostonsians

The Juvenile Bostonsians will appear in this city at the Opera House for one performance on Friday evening, Nov. 3rd, presenting that delightful musical comedy "The Dream Girl." The musical engagement of this company is always a big treat to grownups as well as the children, and no organization even of adults is more popular with theatrical audiences. The charm of this company lies in its being composed entirely of young girls, the youngest sixteen, the oldest not over twenty. It is the same company with some few changes that first started its career eight years ago when Mrs. E. Lang gathered together a number of her own children and gave them the opportunity of showing their talent and charity. Out of that original company are six or seven young girls present still.

Mr. Fred Burton brought in a fine bunch of steers from his ranch in the Hills Monday. They were brought in by a fine bunch of steers and it is said they were the finest bunch of steers seen in Claresholm this year. Mr. Burton stated that all his cattle were in the best possible condition. He made it up to Friday and Saturday. He returned home Tuesday after making the Review office a company are six or seven young girls present still.
